RAY looks directly into the camera, Behind her, a hand-drawn poster of the STARDUST show is taped to the wall.

RAY

You remember the show Stardust, right? 1999? Host in the blue sweater? He told us the world was a puzzle we could solve together.

Quick, grainy VHS-style clip of Clay waving from a colorful set.

RAY

Well, I'm 30 now. The world isn't a puzzle. It's a mess. And I'm not a "ray of sunshine" anymore… I'm a fireball.

Ray walks through the streets of New York City. She looks exhausted. Animated sparks start to flicker around her hair when she gets bumped by a passerby.

RAY (V.O.)

I'm Ray Reyes. I'm a struggling educator who just accidentally burned down my theatre career. Literally.

Ray stands in front of a shiny studio billboard for STARPOWER! featuring the perfect MS. AURORA.

RAY

Now, my childhood show is getting a reboot. But instead of the heart and soul I remember, they're hiring her. Ms. Aurora. I'm fighting to be the host and bring back the science that actually matters.

In a world of scientific skepticism and mental health crises, we're using the States of Matter to talk about the human condition.

SOLID, LIQUID, AND GAS – PITCH

Solid: The weight of depression. Liquid: The pressure of a career in flux. Gas: That moment you finally expand or explode into the world.

A snippet of animation showing the sisters, STARDUST and STARPOWER, dancing around a scientific formula.

Quick cuts of DAVID QUANG PHAM at a piano, SANNETTE GAIA on a film set, and BEMA COULIBALY at an animation desk.

DAVID

I'm David, the creator. As an astrophysicist and theater maker, I wanted to create a space for neurodivergent and AAPI voices that are left out of the world of science.

SANNETTE

We're building a "fantastical sci-fi world" inside a gritty New York dramedy. But we can't build it alone.

Ray is back in her apartment, but she's holding a STARDUST prop, determined.

RAY

We need $30,000 to fund our animation, our incredible cast, and the original music that brings this universe to life.

Check out our wishlist. Grab an incentive. Join our crew. Because the states of your mental health... they matter.
